

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Emanuel Marquez [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 10:51 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an External Sender

WARNING: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decision making technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Emanuel Marquez
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Emilio Castro
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:31:25 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Emilio Castro

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Emma Paulini <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 12:36 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Emma Paulini

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 5:11:59 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Erh-yen To

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Thursday, January 16, 2025 8:16:47 AM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Eric Edmondson

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Erica Drake <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 9:14 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I am scared. There is a lot going on in the country and I need someone to listen to me and take action. My voice matters and it is full of fear.

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Erica Drake

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Erin Ballerstein <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Friday, February 7, 2025 1:33 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Erin Ballerstein

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 9:34:26 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Erin Moilanen

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Wednesday, January 8, 2025 6:15:59 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Evan McDermit

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 3:07:59 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

F. Carlene Reuscher

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: FAHED ELKHATIB <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 9:01 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

FAHED ELKHATIB

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 5:37:47 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Fatma Elashmawi

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 10:53:18 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Felix Vayssieres

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Flinn Eng
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:55:39 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Flinn Eng

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Thursday, January 9, 2025 5:31:35 PM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Francine Kubrin

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Garrett Murphy [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 5:51 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Garrett Murphy

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Gary Dowling <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 8:47 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Gary Dowling

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Genev Shambo <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, February 18, 2025 7:08 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an External Sender

WARNING: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Genev Shambo

████████████████████
████████████████████
████████████████████

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Geoffrey Eargle <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 8:52 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Geoffrey Eargle

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Gillian Kane
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 12:25:18 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Gillian Kane

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 4:19:16 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Giovannina Fazio

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Greg C <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:53 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Greg C

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

---

From: Greg D [REDACTED]
Reply-To: [REDACTED]
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 at 11:37 AM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Greg D

▪

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Gretel Flora <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 1:19 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Gretel Flora
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Sunday, January 19, 2025 3:06:08 AM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Harriet Ongele

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Wednesday, January 8, 2025 2:38:45 PM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Heather Polley

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Holly Lipski <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:52 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Holly Lipski

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Ian Bixby <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Monday, February 10, 2025 10:42 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an External Sender

WARNING: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Ian Bixby

[Redacted signature block]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Friday, January 10, 2025 2:19:39 PM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Ian McGarvey

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Ian Torres <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 10:35 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Ian Torres

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Inge Wagner <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 11:48 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Inge Wagner

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:29:26 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Ingrid Chang

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Isabel Cisneros <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 2:15 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Isabel Cisneros

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: Isabel Truong
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:59:45 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Isabel Truong

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpha

---

From: isabelle ocampo <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Saturday, January 11, 2025 11:05 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

isabelle ocampo

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: J Yip <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:30 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

J Yip

████████████████████
████████████████████
████████████████████

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 7:45:14 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jacoba Dolloff

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: James Babbin
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:31:45 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

James Babbin

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 14, 2025 3:36:14 AM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

James Michael 'Mike' Henderson

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Janet Klein <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 10:57 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Janet Klein

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Janet Maker
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:33:43 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Janet Maker

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Jasmine Jauregui <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Saturday, February 8, 2025 11:12 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jasmine Jauregui

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Jason Oringer <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 10:47 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jason Oringer

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

---

From: Jason Wilson [REDACTED]
Reply-To: [REDACTED]
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 at 11:51 AM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

Hi,

Thank you for your service on the CCPA. I strongly urge you to adopt the CPPA proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Sincerely,
Jason (Whittier)

Jason Wilson

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

▪

---

From: Jazmine Cortez [REDACTED]
Reply-To: [REDACTED]
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 at 11:32 AM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jazmine Cortez

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

▪

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Thursday, January 9, 2025 10:43:49 PM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jenn Canozza

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Jennifer Brown <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Saturday, February 8, 2025 7:35 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jennifer Brown

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Jennifer Jerlstrom [REDACTED]
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 3:56 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jennifer Jerlstrom
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Jennifer Lazo <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 11:44 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jennifer Lazo

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Monday, January 13, 2025 7:02:34 AM

---

This Message Is From an External Sender

WARNING: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jennifer Walker

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: Jeremy Bird-Fremont
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 12:01:59 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jeremy Bird-Fremont

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

---

From: Jeremy Lyons <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>

Reply-To: [REDACTED]

Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 at 1:52 PM

To: [REDACTED]

Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jeremy Lyons

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

|

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Jessica Mitchell-Shihabi <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:47 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jessica Mitchell-Shihabi

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 5:47:46 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

jesus hernandez

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Jill Dunham <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Saturday, February 8, 2025 8:19 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jill Dunham

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: JL Angell [REDACTED]
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:34 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

JL Angell
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Joel Johnson <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 8:53 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Joel Johnson

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: John Bradfield [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 12:18 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

John Bradfield

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

---

From: JOHN CERVANTES [REDACTED]
Reply-To: [REDACTED]
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 at 12:49 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

JOHN CERVANTES

▪

Catbagan, Christian@cpha

---

From: John Gardner <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Saturday, January 11, 2025 1:22 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

The impact of Big Tech's blackbox recommendation algorithms have consequences that extend far beyond California, thanks to the hegemony of Silicon Valley. Rewarding ragebait, encouraging echo-chambers, and deprioritising politically-sensitive content (e.g., the genocide in Gaza) are all things that much of the Western Internet has been forced to deal with in recent years, and that was *before* AI got involved.

Everything wrong with the current status quo can be traced back to a lack of transparency or accountability from Big Tech firms. Now that AI automation is being brought into the fold, the status quo is set to become exponentially worse.

If the CPPA adopts these regulations for tech companies, it'll be a major step forward towards a less politicised, divisive, and misinformation-riddled cesspool of an Internet. And don't worry, CEOs, you'll still be filthy rich, even without being able to capitalise on an exploitative business model built upon selling our personal data.

John Gardner

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

---

From: John Hartigan [REDACTED]
Reply-To: [REDACTED]
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 at 12:15 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

John Hartigan

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

▪

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: John Lamb <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Friday, February 7, 2025 12:09 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

John Lamb

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: John Landmann <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 1:34 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

John Landmann

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: John Tansley [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 9:31 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

John Tansley
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 8:29:16 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Jorge Belloso-Curiel

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:59:18 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Joseph Blum

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Joseph Dadgari
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:32:24 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Joseph Dadgari

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Joseph Reynolds <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 12:11 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Joseph Reynolds

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Juan Estrada [REDACTED]
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 12:06 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Juan Estrada

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Judith Anderson <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 9:15 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Judith Anderson

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Judith Poxon
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 1:13:03 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Judith Poxon

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Judy Doane <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 11:21 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Judy Doane

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

From: Julia Bonfilio
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 12:40:24 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Julia Bonfilio

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Julie Holguin <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 8:30 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Julie Holguin

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Wednesday, January 8, 2025 12:54:12 PM

---

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Julie Kanoff

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Juliette Arteaga
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:32:12 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Juliette Arteaga

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Justin Truong <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 12:41 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Justin Truong

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: k hill <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 3:08 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

k hill

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: K M <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 9, 2025 8:15 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an External Sender

WARNING: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

K M

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: k. s. <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 9, 2025 10:37 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an External Sender

WARNING: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

k. s.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: Karen Jacques
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:43:29 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Karen Jacques

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Karen Kirschling <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 1:23 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Karen Kirschling

[Redacted]
[Redacted]
[Redacted]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 3:33:49 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Karen McCaw

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Karen Preston <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 10:33 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Karen Preston

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Jennifer M Urban [REDACTED]
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 2:04 PM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: FW: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an External Sender

WARNING: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

---

[REDACTED]

---

From: Karen Preuss [REDACTED]
Reply-To: [REDACTED]
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 at 12:48 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Karen Preuss

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

▪

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Katherine Aker <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 9:36 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Katherine Aker

████████████████████
████████████████████
████████████████████

---

From: Katherine Luce <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 12:11 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

I am an academic librarian who teaches undergraduates about information use. I find students share my concerns about unfettered algorithmic decision-making, but can feel helpless, partly because government hasn't acted strongly to protect their interests. Please show them that action is possible!

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Katherine Luce

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:33:59 AM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Kathleen Tandy

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regulations@CPPA

---

From: Kathy Kelly <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 8:56 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Kathy Kelly

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 7:36:35 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Katie McVay

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 6:38:56 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Kay L.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations
Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2025 11:16:01 PM

---

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Ked Garden

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: Kelsey Fernandez <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2025 10:24 AM
To: Regulations@CPPA
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

This Message Is From an Untrusted Sender

Warning: This email originated from outside of the organization! Do not click links, open attachments, or reply, unless you recognize the sender's email.

Report Suspicious

CPPA CPPA CPPA,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

Kelsey Fernandez

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Catbagan, Christian@cpga

---

From: keska rader <noreply@adv.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Saturday, January 11, 2025 1:18 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Public Comment on CCPA Updates, Cyber, Risk, ADMT, and Insurance Regulations

CPPA Chair Jennifer Urban,

I strongly urge the CPPA to adopt its proposed regulations for businesses using automated decisionmaking technologies that would protect Californians' safety, privacy, and informed consent.

These common sense rules are a vital intervention for consumer protection and human rights as unaccountable algorithms increasingly influence our housing, education, employment, and basic freedoms. These rules should reflect the needs of everyday people to be protected from discrimination and data scraping, not Big Tech's appetite for profiting from our personal info.

Please stand strong, defend our rights to algorithmic transparency and accountability, and adopt the amended regulations.

keska rader
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]